

TRIES TO STEAL GIRL HE LOVES

Andrea Fails and Is Arrested on Kidnaping Charge.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Andrea Salpa's love for pretty Pauline Labors, fourteen years old, which led him to try to run away with the girl today, has brought him into serious trouble. Andrea is now in the East Thirty-fifth street police station, and will be charged in Yorkville court with attempting kidnaping. Andrea, a peddler, has lived in the same house with Pauline for a year. During this time his love for the girl has grown steadily. Andrea says Pauline's father knew of his love, and only objected to an immediate marriage because of his daughter's age.

Today Andrea waited in a cab at First avenue and Thirty-first street where Pauline passed daily going to work in a nearby cigar factory. When the girl approached, Andrea sprang out, threw a cloak over her head and tried to drag the girl into the carriage. Her struggles and screams attracted a crowd and Police Officer Moroney and Fittig hurried to the spot. When he saw them coming, Andrea deserted the girl and made a dash for it. The police man overhauled him and he was locked up. Pauline, the cab driver and a number of bystanders were taken along as witnesses.

ANTI-DUELING RECRUIT.

The anti-dueling league of Europe has received an enthusiastic recruit in Count Geneva di Revel, who was lieutenant general in the Italian army, minister of war and military adviser of Victor Emmanuel II. The current number of Rassegna Razionale, of Florence, contains an article by him entitled "A Veteran and the Duel," in which he denounces the practice and says: "His majesty, our king, in becoming the protector of the Italian anti-dueling league, shows not only his nobility of purpose, but also his sympathy for a practice so out of keeping with the spirit of our times."

HELPED SON TO GREATNESS.

With his own pen Thomas Huxley once wrote this statement: "I am so completely the son of my mother—even down to the movements of my hands—that I can hardly find in myself any trace of my father, except an inborn faculty for drawing, a hot temper and a tenacity of purpose which unfriendly observers sometimes call obstinacy." With no more education than the other women of the middle class in his day, Mrs. Huxley was endowed with a mind far above that of the average woman of her generation, or man, either, for that matter.—Exchange.

PEWS WITH PRIVILEGES.

"Are you aware," said the antiquary, "that there are certain church pews to which the contribution basket is never passed?"
"No."
"It is a fact. These pews are in certain old Episcopal churches in Philadelphia, in Boston, and in a number of New England villages.
"They have been rented on a non-contribution basis for a couple of centuries. In the past, it is said, men slept in church; they even played cards or draughts there, and the advent of the contribution basket would have been an amazing interruption to them. So few very much higher rental they obtained pews that the collectors ignored. These pews in churches that like to keep up the quaint customs of the past are still maintained."—Exchange.

Plight Troth On Dizzy Height Of Monument

Thomas Alexander and Miss Anna Morrison, of Philadelphia, were married at the top of the Washington Monument yesterday afternoon. The ceremony, which was witnessed by quite a number of uninvited guests, was performed by the Rev. James E. Stuart, who experienced some difficulty in persuading one of the guards to permit the function.

Immediately after the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander went to Philadelphia on the first train leaving Washington. Mr. Alexander is a carpet manufacturer, and his bride is the daughter of a capitalist. The bridegroom is twenty-five, while the bride is but nineteen. Their parents objected to the union because of their youth. The prospective bride and bridegroom and minister boarded the 2:30 o'clock elevator yesterday, and ascended with a carload of tourists and sightseers. The three walked leisurely around the top of the shaft until the car went down with a load of passengers. Selecting a sequestered nook, the couple stood side by side and the minister began propounding the all-important questions. This attracted the curiosity of the crowd, and he insisted that no wedding bells could ring there. The minister won him over, while the bride, too, protested against this interruption. Torrey, as good as his word, closed his eyes and did not see the ceremony performed.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION.

The young wife of a prominent physician teaches a Sunday school class of small boys. One Sunday not long ago, after she had finished telling them the story of Joseph and his coat of many colors, she said:
"Is there any question you would like to ask me before we go on with the catechism?"
"Yes," answered little Sammy Eastwood.
"Well, what is it, Sammy?"
"Will you give me a ride in your automobile?"
The question was not answered then, but, as a matter of record, Sammy got the ride.—Exchange.

ELECTRICITY AND MEMORY.

At a recent meeting of the Royal Society of Canada, Sir James Grant, M. D., presented a paper on the neurons and cells of the brain in their relation to the faculty of memory, and, after stating that, as with the other tissues of the body, so with the cells of the brain, evidence of lessening power and activity appears with the passage of years, he added the very interesting investigation demonstrates that the electrical current through the brain rotates its molecules to such a degree as to produce a most notable physiological response in the direction of improved memory.—Exchange.

ALEXANDRIAN LIBRARY.

There were two great libraries in Alexandria, the one in Bruchium and that in the Serapeum, the former containing 400,000 and the latter 700,000 volumes or rolls. The Bruchium library was accidentally destroyed by Julius Caesar when he ordered the shipping fired in the harbor B. C. 48. The Serapeum library was destroyed by a fire, ordered by an edict of Theodosius, 391 A. D. The claim that the Caliph Amrou, A. D. 640, ordered the destruction of all the books in the Alexandrian libraries, with the statement that "if they agreed with the Koran they were useless, and if they disagreed with it they were pernicious," is received by many high authorities with great suspicion.—New York American.

PECULIAR TO ITSELF.

"I suppose there is a certain fascination that keeps you in the racing game?"
"Yes," admitted the bookmaker, "there is. I've tried hardware, clothing, groceries, and shoes, but I've never struck another line where people simply struggle to hand you their coin."—Exchange.

ADMIRAL EVANS LANDS; VESSEL REJOINS FLEET

The battleship Connecticut, which took Admiral Evans from Magdalena Bay to San Diego yesterday in order that he might have the benefit of the hot springs at Pasa Robles, has rejoined the fleet. It is expected that target practice will be concluded within another week, and that the fleet will arrive at San Diego April 12 or 14. In the meantime, Rear Admiral Thomas will be in command of the fleet. Admiral Evans will resume command at San Diego and will quit the sea finally upon the fleet being reviewed by Secretary McCall on May 5. The cruiser Chicago, which is en route from San Francisco to Annapolis Md., started yesterday on the last lap of her voyage from Santa Lucia for Hampton Roads.

PLAYGROUNDS ASSOCIATION WILL MEET TOMORROW

The annual meeting of the Playgrounds Association will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Dr. Luther Gulick, president of the national association, is to make an address. The annual report of officers will be submitted and officers for the ensuing year elected. President Cuno H. Rudolph announced this morning that the District Commissioners had turned over the supervision of the new bathing beach to the association. It will be open for the use of the association under the supervision of the Commissioners.

DEVLIN'S FATHER SUES.

Edward Devlin, father of the third baseman of the New York Nationals, was the complainant against Frank James in the Police Court this morning. James was convicted of stealing a vest from Mr. Devlin, and was fined $30 or thirty days in jail.

PRESIDENT TO ATTEND; DRILL AT FORT MYER

President Roosevelt will go to Fort Myer tomorrow afternoon to witness the exhibition drill to be given by the troops. Among the drills to be executed will be the saddle drill, by Troop G; the saber drill, by Troop H; bareback drill, by Troop F; Cossack drill and rough riding exhibition by Troop E. Infantry maneuvers will be performed by Batteries D and E. The War Department has recently increased the seating accommodations of the riding hall at the fort to twice its former capacity, and as several of the troops of cavalry stationed at the post have won national fame by their horsemanship, it is expected that the largest crowd that ever visited Fort Myer will attend the exhibition tomorrow. The drills will begin at 3:30 o'clock and the proceeds will be given to the Fort Myer Y. M. C. A., and the post athletic fund.

A CANDID ADMISSION.

"I met in Japan an Englishman, an F. R. G. S., who was searching for a certain lost island," said Mr. Bryan, in recounting experiences of his trip around the world. "This island had been reported from time to time by various vessels, but always in a slightly different location. The theory of the scientist was that the island did not move, as was generally believed, but might have some peculiar magnetic property which affected the ships' instruments. 'Isn't it astonishing,' the scientist remarked, 'how an island as large as that can be utterly lost in seas traversed as much as these?'
"How large is it?" I asked.
"About two miles across."
"Well, I don't call that remarkable," I said, recalling my campaigns. "I myself have lost areas larger than that—a great deal larger."—The Circle.

President Lincoln

—once expressed his views on the subject of prohibition as follows: "Prohibition will work great injury to the cause of temperance. It is a species of intemperance within itself, for it goes beyond the bounds of reason in that it attempts to control a man's appetite."

¶ The more enlightened of present-day temperance promoters realize that in the encouragement of the PROPER use of beer lies the surest success of their aim.

MAN HELD FOR MURDER OF BALTIMORE "SPORT"

BALTIMORE, April 2.—William Harig, former ward politician, was remanded to jail today to await hearing on the charge of murdering James M. Mahon, the well-known sporting man and politician, whom he shot and almost instantly killed Tuesday night in front of the Hotel Raleigh.

This action followed the verdict of the coroner's jury, rendered last night, holding Harig for the killing. Harig, in his plea of self-defense, claimed Mahon tried to draw a gun.

A score of witnesses swore Mahon was unarmed, the tenor of the testimony being that the deed was unprovoked.

SIN AND DEATH.

The leading citizen of a small country town escorted a friend on a tour of inspection through the village. The friend, who was a resident of a metropolitan city, was duly impressed by the many advantages of the little town. Finally the two men reached the cemetery. The visitor carefully looked at the various tributes, and then turned to his guide. "Say, Dave," he began, "why—where do you b-b-bury your s-s-sinners?"—"Judge."

HARPER'S EXCEPTIONS TO BE HEARD FRIDAY

A long bill of exceptions to the ruling of Judge Kimball, in the case against Robert N. Harper, for violation of the pure food and drug act, will be begun by Attorney Tucker for Mr. Harper in Judge Kimball's court Friday next week.

So many exceptions are included in the bill that it is expected the argument will not be concluded until Monday or Tuesday of the week following.

A PRACTICAL ROTATION.

"I suppose you follow a system of rotation in your agricultural operations," casually observed the high-browed graduate of the modern agricultural college.

"Follow what kind of a system?" inquired honest, hard-handed Uncle Ezra.

"A scheme of rotation. That is, take that large field there; you put that to one purpose one year, another purpose the next year, and still different the third year, and so on."

"Oh, yes, I see your meanin'." Well, sir, last year we used the proceeds of that field to give Elizabeth her musical education; this year the proceeds went to pay boot in a boss trade that I had heard of; and next year I intend that field shall give me a trip down to the city and build a new concrete smokehouse. After that I'm countin' on lettin' the youngest boy, Henry Absalom, farm the field on shares to kinder get his hands into the work."

MORE TIME RECOMMENDED FOR BUILDING HOSPITAL

Engineer Commissioner Morrow has recommended that the time for the completion of the contract for the erection of a tuberculosis hospital be extended to and including April 30, 1908. The cost of inspection during this period will be charged to the contractor, Pavirini & Wynne, but the penalty of $10 a day will be waived.

In asking for this extension the contractor says that the delay was caused by the condition of the labor market, and the strikes which have prevailed during the erection of the building.

HEART-POWER.

The weight of the blood excreted at each contraction of the left ventricle of the heart is about four ounces. The multiplication of this number gives us two and a quarter footpounds—that is, a force capable of raising that number of pounds one foot high—as the work performed at each contraction of the left ventricle. In an adult person in good health there are performed some seventy-five such contractions per minute. Adding the work done by the right ventricle, which is about one-third that of the left, we find that the force expended by the human heart in twenty-four hours would suffice to raise 120 tons weight one foot high.—New York American.
